DOCUMENT RESUME

ED 061 142

SO 002 768

AUTHOR TITLE

Hanson, Paul S.

INSTITUTION

Social Studies: Forging a Nation.

PUB DATE

Dade County Public Schools, Miami, Fla.

OB DATE

71

NOTE

35p.; An Authorized Course of Instruction for the

Quinmester Program

EDRS PRICE

MF-$0.65 HC-$3.29

DESCRIPTORS

Activity Units; *American History; Colonial History (United States); Conflict; *Conflict Resolution; Constitutional History; Curriculum Guides; Grade 7; Grade 8; Grade 9; History Instruction; Junior High Schools; Resource Guides; *Revolutionary War (United States); Secondary Grades; *Social Studies Units;

*United States History

IDENTIFIERS

American Studies; Florida: *Quinmester Program

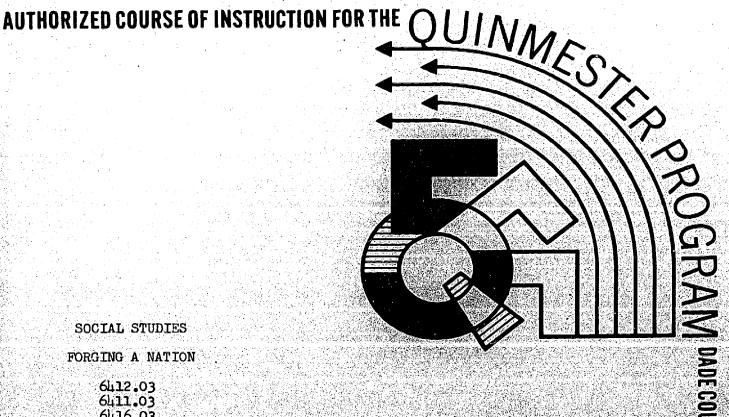

ABSTRACT

Forging a Nation, a curriculum guide for teachers of grades 7 through 9 as they plan instructional programs in American Studies, is part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. Primary emphasis is upon using the topic of the American Revolution as a basis for studying conflict and change. This course of study deals with events, personalities, ideas, and with examination of the differing American and British interpretations of the revolution. Course content includes outlined units on: the American Colonies and Colonial government; French and English rivalry in North America; change in British Colonial policy; reasons for declaring independence; factors which contributed to the winning of the war; and reasons for establishing a new nation. A learning activities section provides a picture of the main idea and specific behavioral objectives for a set of learning activities. A listing of class materials that includes texts, films, filmstrips and games is included. Related documents are: SO 002 708 through SO 002 718, and SO 002 768 through SO 002 792. (Author/SJM)

SOCIAL STUDIES FORGING A NATION

6412.03 6411.03 6416.03 6470.22

DIVISION OF INSTRUCTION•1971

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION & WELFARE
OFFICE OF EDUCATION
THIS DOCUMENT HAS BEEN REPRODUCED EXACTLY AS RECEIVED FROM
THE PERSON OR ORGANIZATION ORIGINATING IT. POINTS OF VIEW OR OPINIIONS STATED DO NOT NECESSARILY REPRESENT OFFICIAL OFFICE OF EDUCATION POSITION OR POLICY.

SOCIAL STUDIES

FORGING A NATION

6412.03 6411.03 6416.03 5470.22

Paul S. Hanson

Dade County Public Schools Miami, Florida 1971 Division of Instruction for

DADE COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

Mr. William Lehman, Chairman
Mr. G. Holmes Braddock, Vice-Chairman
Mrs. Ethel Beckham
Mrs. Crutcher Harrison
Mrs. Anna Brenner Meyers
Dr. Ben Sheppard
Mr. William H. Turner

Dr. E. L. Whigham, Superintendent of Schools Dade County Public Schools Miami, Florida 33132

Published by the Dade County School Board

Copies of this publication may be obtained through

Textbook Services 2210 S. W. Third Street Miami, Florida 33135

Price: $.75

INTRODUCTION

This course of study was written as a part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. The materials and information in this guide are meant to be neither all-inclusive nor prescriptive; but rather, an aide to teachers as they taking into account student needs and characteristics, available plan instructional programs, resources, and other factors. The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to a described course of study. Teachers may then accept the model framework in total or draw ideas from it to Incorporate into their lessons.

a set of given learning activities. The materials section of the guide lists resources in four oriented information for the teacher; "indicators of success" refers to suggested prerequisite mentary student resources. The appendix may include other material appropriate for a specific The content outline illustrates, in general terms, the scope and major subdivisions of the course. The objectives and learning activities section, hopefully, The guide is divided into 1) a broad goals section, 2) a content outline, 3) objectives The first section provides descriptive and goalprovides a total picture of the concept or main idea and specific behavioral objectives for place of or in addition to the aforementioned; supplementary teacher resources; and supplecategories: essential textual or other material; alternate classroom materials to use in course: e.g., pretests, readings, vocabulary, etc. and learning activities, and 4) materials. or corequisite experiences.

Anyone having recommendations relating to this publication is urged to write them down and send to : Social Studies Office, Room 306, Lindsey Hopkins, A-1. James A. Fleming Social Studies Consultant

ERIC Full Tast Provided by ERIC

STUDENTS THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION IS USED AS A BASIS FOR STUDYING CONFLICT AND CHANGE. STUDENTS EXAMINE DIFFERENT INTERPRETATIONS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION. THE SECOND HALF OF THE COURSE FOCUSES ON THE AFTERMATH OF THE WAR LEADING TO THE FORMING OF A NEW NATION. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

CLUSTER: AMERICAN STUDIES

GRADE LEVEL: 7-9

INDICATORS OF SUCCESS: NOWE (ALTHOUGH COLONIAL AMERICA IS RECOMMENDED)

equate the ideologies or notivating factors involved. As you study Forging a Nation keep in mind that two hundred years ago British leaders worried about a domino theory, distant wilderness warfare, the notion of "defensive enclaves," Hawks, Doves, hired mercenaries, an unpopular war on the homefront, possible intervention by hostile powers, and a little in Vietnam. History soldom repeats itself exactly, and it would be a mistake to try to turies ago, when Britain faced tha same agonizing problems in America that we have met those who cannot remember the past, are condemned to repeat it. As the United States concludes a decade of war in Southeast Asia, it is worth recalling the time, two cenever present many times since throughout the world. George Santayana once said that history which took place so long ago is relevent to the happenings in today's world. In a few years we will celebrate our nation's bicentennial. Forging a Nation deals Revolution was not an original concept of our forefathers and it has certainly been with those events, personalities, and ideas which focused upon 1776. However, the trouble telling friendly natives from unfriendly. COURSE RATIONALE:

COURSE GOALS:

- THE STUDENTS WILL IDENTIFY DATA TO SUPPORT THE HYPOTHESIS THAT THE BRITISH COLONIES GREW AND PROSPERED DURING THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY,
- GIVEN INFORMATION ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF COLONIAL GOVERNMENT, THE STUDENTS WILL GIVE EXAMPLES OF COLONIAL SELF-GOVERNMENT. તં
- THE STUDENTS WILL EXPLAIN THE EFFECTS OF THE FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR UPON THE FRENCH, THE BRITISH, AND THE COLONISTS. ښ
- GIVEN AMERICAN AND BRITISH INTERPRETATIONS OF THE CAUSES OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, THE STUDENTS WILL DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN THEM. 4.
- GIVEN AN ACCOUNT OF THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN VERSIONS OF LEXINGTON AND CONCORD, THE STUDENTS WILL MAKE INFERENCES ABOUT THE ACTUAL EVENTS. 'n
- THE STUDENTS WILL MAKE HYPOTHESES OF WHY THE COLONISTS DESIRED INDEPENDENCE. ė
- THE STUDENTS WILL IDENTIFY THOSE FACTORS WHICH CONTRIBUTED TO WINNING THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION. 7
- GIVEN INFORMATION OF THE CONFEDERATION PERIOD, THE STUDENTS WILL DETERMINE SOME OF THE REASONS FOR ESTABLISHING A NEW GOVERNMENT ∞;

I. British Colonial Growth

Survey of the Thirteen Colonies

Colonial Population Growth

White

Negro

Towns and cities

Intercolonial Relations ပ

Transportation

Communication ė

Colonial Economy Agriculture

Industry

Trade

Colonial Government II.

A. Components of Colonial Government

The Covernor

The Assembly

The Electorate

The Thirteen Colonies in the British Empire . ت ښ

Local Government

The French vs. the British III.

French Empire in North America

Anglo-Franco Conflict in North America

Oliio River Valley

Fort Duquesne

The Conflict

Results റ് പ്

Treaty of Paris

Effects

a) France

The Thirteen Colonies England

British Colonial Policy

Events leading to Revolution Reasons for change

Proclamation of 1763

Sugar Act

Stamp Act

Quartering Act

Townshend Acts

Boston Massacre

Tea Act 84567 Soston Tea Party

intolerable Acts 8

Continental Congress

The Conflict Begins

Lexington and Concord

On the Scene Accounts

Changing Interpretations

20th Century Versions

British Versions

Writing Your Own History ب

Desire for Independence Thomas Jefferson VI.

John Adams

The Declaration of Independence

Thomas Paine and Common Sense

Winning the War VII.

A Comparison

American Strengths and Weaknesses 1) British Strengths and Weaknesses Saratoga Yorktown ပံ

щ Э

Treaty of Paris - 1783

Provisions

Effects

Upon England

Upon the United States

Problems of a Disunited Young Nation VIII.

The Confederation Period

Indians

Western Lands

Economic Problems

4) Courts
B. Calling of the Constitutional Convention

THE HYPOTHESES THAT THE BRITISH COLONIES GREW AND PROSPERED	DURING THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY. LEARNING ACTIVITIES	Mave thirteen teams of students each select a colony, conduct research, and then present a brief report to the class on the founding and development of each colony.	Snow the filmstrip, The Development of the Thirteen Colonies, SVE.	On an outline map of the 13 colonies, locate each colony, major settlements, and the major geographical features.	Draw a timeline encompassing the years 1600 to 1760. On the timeline, have students place the major happenings, including the settlement date of each colony.	liave students read and/or discuss an overview of the colonial period. Any U.S. history textbook would be adequate for this activity.	Use reference material to indicate population growth in the colonies. The students might draw line or bar graphs. To represent the different groups (e.g. English, Scotch-Irish, Negro, etc.) a pie graph would be in order. Source: The Americans, pp. 40-42.	Have students make reports or skits on the various modes of transportation and communication in the colonies. The teacher might indicate comparisons, e.g. in colonial times a 100 m e trip by horse and wagon would be similar to a 1,500 mile t: p by automobile today.	Show filmstrip, From Horseback to Jet, Life.	Have students construct models or draw posters of colonial transportation and communication.	Discuss and/or read about economic life in the colonies. It might be helpful to divide the colonies into New England, Middle, and Southern.
THE STUDENTS WILL IDENTIFY GATA TO SUPPORT THE	OBJECTIVE	A. The students will examine 1, the development of the thirteen colonies.			•	3	B. The Students will examine 1. the population growth of the colonies.	C. The students will examine the transportation and communication in the colonies.	2.	ri	D. The students will examine 1. the colonial economy.
GOAL 1: THE STUDENTS W	FOCUS	SURVEY OF THE THIR- TEEN COLOMIES.		Note: This section	8 7 7 8	those students who have had Colonial America, this will serve as a review.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	2. On an outline map of the colonies indicate the areas where agricultural products are raised, where industry is located, and the areas from which major exports originate. (Encyclopedias and some U.S. history texts would be good reference here.)	3. Have the students write an essay on the growth and prosperity of the British colonies. Or the students might compile a list of evidence to indicate that the colonies grew and prospered. (Note: this latter exercise would present an ideal opportunity to have the students place data into various categories.)		2
OBJECTIVE				Biological Communication Charles (Marie Companies of Communication (M) - , which are a many of the Communication
Focus

GOAL

Another early conflict which might be included is the Peter Zenger budget year. At this point the teacher might mention the concept, how these changed over the years. Discovering American History, pp. 57,58,83,326-27, is a good source. Have the students discuss with the colonial governor making an appearance. The topic under would be the formation of the Council for New England, including The students should be aware of colonial voting requirements and the British policy of mercantilism and subsequent conflict that executive, legislative, judicial, At this point it might be advisable for the teacher to explain reports to class. Instead of straight reporting, the students Have students conduct a mock meeting of the House of Burgesses developed between the English and various colonial governments developments in the colonies, e.g. Mayflower Compact, House of in the 17th and early 18th centuries. A good example of this Burgesses, Fundamental Orders of Connecticut, Maryland Act of Poleration, Great Law of Pennsylvania, and then present brief present the material in form of a lecture or student reports. GIVEN INFORMATION ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF COLONIAL GOVERNMENT, THE STUDENT WILL GIVE EXAMPLES OF COLONIAL SELF-The teacher might discussion might be the salary of the governor for the next might conduct a role-playing situation of those with some Assign several students to research some of the political Have students read about and discuss the organization of trial, from the point of view of governmental conflict the reasons why there were certain requirements. artistic talent might draw posters or cartoons. electorate, suffrage, and separation of power. Edmund Andros and the Charter Oak Story. LEARNING ACTIVITIES Review with class the terms: the power of the purse. colonial government. GOVERNMENT examples of colonial self-The students will examine examples of government in The students will give Colonial America. OBJECTIVE government. 4 COLONIAL GOVERNMENT FOCUS

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	2. Have students read about and discuss local governments in the colonies. Include the New England Town Meeting, county government in the South, township government in the Middle Colonies, and "frontier democracy."	3. Have the class conduct a New England Town Meeting. The student might select the topic(s) under discussion by the meeting.	4. Discussion Questions: a. Who managed the local matters in the colonies? To what extent? b. Why did the colonists develop the concept of self-government? What form of government developed on the frontier?	c. In what area did the British and colonial governments come into conflict? d. Why was commerce so important to the British? Why did England not rigidly enforce the 17th century Trade and	hous: ed when there was governments? W e feeling of the	government: In the area of empire:	4
OBJECTIVE
Focus						,

COAL 3: THE STUDENTS WILL EXPLAIN THE EFFECTS OF THE FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR UPON THE FRENCH, THE BRITISH, THE COLONISTS.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	Have the students read about the background of the French and Indian War. Again any U.S. history text would suffice.	Have the students indicate on an outline map of North America the arcas controlled by the various European powers prior to the outbreak of the French and Indian War.	Review with students French explorations and land claims in North America or show film, French Explorations in the New World, #1-05315,11', C.	Have the students make a list of the first three intercolonial wars (King William's War [1689-1697], queen Anne's War [1701-1713], and King George's War [1744-1748].) After each conflict, indicate the victor and major result (e.g. territorial changes).		the English colonies in America and the French colonics in America. Categories for this comparism may include: population, location,	economy, government, relationships with the Indians, etc. Refer to the outline map of North America (Activity #2) and have	students make note of areas where French and English claims came into conflict. The teacher should "lead" the students to focus	in on the Ohio River Valley.	a. Why was this valley important to the French? to the English?	What did the French governor Bienville do to insure French ownership of this region? (See History of Our U.S., pp. 92-98)	b. What English colony claimed this region? On what basis was this claim?	c. What are some alternative courses of action when two nations	claim the same land? What was done in the Ohio River Valley? Was this the only course of action under the circumstances?	Have the students write a summary, outline, or construct a time- line of the background of the French and Indian War to 1754.
	, ,	. 2	m m	4	5.		9			:					 		ı	٦ —
OBJECTIVE	A. The students will describe the background events of the French and Indian War
FOCUS	FRENCH AND ENGLISH RIVALRY IN NORTH AMER- ICA.				13	3										,

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	 c. Would England's attitude toward the colonies change with France out of the picture? Why or why not? d. What effect would England's growing debt (1754 = £73,000,000; 1764 = ±130,000,000) have upon the colonies? Could the British make the colonists partially responsible for payment of this debt? Why or why not? e. In what ways did the French and Indian War alter the life styles of those living in the colonies?
OBJECTIVE
FOCUS	•	·

. 4: GIVEN AMERICAN FOCUS	GIVEN AMERICAN AND BRITISH INTERPRETATIONS OF FOCUS OBJECTIVE	THE CAUSES OF THE AMERICAN PERENTIATE BETWEEN THEM.
		LEARNING ACTIVITIES
ANGE IN BRITISH NIAL POLICY.	A. The student will suggest alternative courses of action the British might take in 1763.	1. Introduce this period with the film, American Revolution: The Background period, #1-05748, or the sound filmstrip, A Prelude to Independence, SVE.
		2. Discuss the situation between England and the 13 colonies in 1763, including: England's rising debt, desire for an English balanced budget, need for a standing army in the colonies, new ways for the British government to raise revenue, and a tightening up of the American customs service.
		3. Have the students (entire class or by groups) suggest various courses of action the British might take to solve their problems. To carry this activity further, after alternatives are listed, have the students point out the considerations and consequences of each alternative. Finally, the class might suggest which course of action would be most beneficial to the British, to the American colonists. An excellent source for this activity is From Subject to Citizen, "The Making of the American Revolution," part 1, pp. 60-65.
	B. The students will examine England's new policy in action.	1. To follow-up activity #3 above, discuss the laws passed by Parliament (1763-1765). Then ask the students to determine whether these actions (Proclamation of 1763, Sugar Act - 1764, and the Stamp Act, 1765) match any one of the courses of action suggested earlier.
		2. Have the students read about the steps leading to the outbreak of War (1763-1774).
		3. Students or groups of students may work on reports to be presented to the class on these events. A good source for the Stamp Act crisis is in The American Revolution, AEP, pp. 16-25.
		4. The students might begin to construct a chart at this time listing the British action, colonial reaction, and importance as a step toward revolution, e.g:
		∞

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	Colonial Reaction Importance	Formation of the Sons The British yielded of Liberty, riots, to pressure both from boycotts, speech by the colonies and in Patrick Henry, Stamp Act Congress, Rights from this never healed of Englishmen.	updated as the material is covered.	Show film, Winning Gur Independence #1-40089, 34', BW, or Williamsburg: The Story of a Patriot, #1-40087, 36', C.	Have several students conduct a role-playing situation. One set of students will assume the role of Englishmen or Leyalists (Tories) and the other set American patriots. In the role-playing situation the students may select any of the areas under IV, B in the course outline.	Have some students research the Boston Massacre. Ask several students to write a newspaper story complete with headline of the Boston Massacre as it would appear in a British newspaper, and other students to do the same for a colonial newspaper.	students interpret Paul Revere's cartoon engraving of on Massacre.	Show the filmstrip, Massacre and Propaganda, CTA, or film, John Yankee: John Adams and the Boston Massacre, #1-12772,20', BW.	ssion Questions: What is a massacre? Was the Boston Massacre a massacre? Why or why not? Why was this event called a massacre?
LEARNI	4. continued British Action	Passage of the Stamp Act (1765)	This chart should be u	5. Show film, Winning Gur Williamsburg: The Stor	6. Have several students conducted of students will assume (Tories) and the other set Applaying situation the studen IV, B in the course outline.	7. Have some students resestudents to write a new Boston Massacre as it we other students to do the	8. Have the students Inter the Boston Massacre.	9. Show the filmstrip, Mass John Yankee: John Adams	10. Discussion Questions: a. What is a massacre Why or why not? b. Why was this event c. What did Samuel Ad
·								.
OBJECTIVE						·

FOCUS

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	d. Did :alling this event a massacre have any effect upon the British? Explain. e. What did the British do to their own soldiers who were involved in the Boston Massacre? What did the citizens of t. What effect did this event have upon the stationing of British troops in Boston? g. Compare circumstances and effects of this event with modernday happenings, e.g. Kent State, urban riots. Any similarities? Any differences?	11. Show film, The Boston Tea Party, #1-31089, 30', C; or filmstrip, Tea Party and King George, CTA. 12. Discuss the Tea Act and the subsequent tea parties at most and the subsequent teachers at t	13. Discussion Questions: a. After the repeal of the Townshend Acts, why did the British retain the tax on tea?	 b. What was the purpose of the Tea Act? c. What did the colonists object to in addition to paying the tax on tea? d. What role did the British East India Company play in this event? What is a monopoly? Do businesses apply prosented. 		14. The students, after research, may write a script of numerous situations and do some role-playing, having both the British and American viewpoints expressed. Suggested situations: a. British East India Company applying pressure to members of Parliament to pass the Tea Act. b. American colonists meeting to plan the Tea Party. c. Several British citizens discussing the tea parties.
OBJECTIVE					·

FOCUS

OBJECTIVE	d. An American patriot (rebel tothe British) discussing the Intolerable Acts with a loyalbt(tory to an American colonists) e. Members of the First Continental Congress discussing the events of the past decade. f. Members of Parliament reacting to the Declarations of Rights and Grievances sent to them by the First Continental Congress. 15. Have the students complete the chart started in activity #4. Looking at the chart as a whole, conduct a debate; Resolved: The colonists were justified in declaring themselves independent from British control. 16. Show films, Cive Me Liberty, #1-12762, 20', C, or Williamsburg: The Story of a Patriot, #1-40087, 36', C. 17. Assign several students to read and report on Oliver Wiswell, by Kenneth Roberts, and Johnny Tremain, by Esther Forbes. 18. Assign a student to report on the exploits of Paul Revere or show film, Paul Revere's Ride, #1-05378, 11', BW.
	11

FOCUS

ERIC

Mave the students observe several selected paintings of the Battle interpretations of Lexington is found in The American Revolution, Lexington represent a point of view. Why do artists differ Lexington and Concord, #1-31091, 27', C; or Dawn of the American GIVEN AN ACCOUNT OF THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN VERSIONS OF LEXINGTON AND CONCORD, THE STUDENTS WILL MAKE INFERENCES of Lexington. Discovering American History, Unit II, "American Revolution 1775-1783." pp. 148-151. From Subject to Citizen, Minutemen? What is happening to the British soldiers? To the b. What effects would the British articles have upon American American Heritage, Vol X (August 1959) pp. 60-64 and 82-84. As "The American Revolution, 1775-1783," pp. 143-148 and 151-162. another source is From Subject to Citizen, "The Making of the American Revolution," Part 1, pp. 9-15. Also Selected Case Studies in American History, Vol 1, pp. 59-63 and 66-72. Ask not the accounts interpret the battles or if they only report the facts. Another excellent source for readins on different students to consider, as they read these articles, whether or a. Now do the authors of the articles reveal their opinions? Sclected Case Studies in American History, Vol. 1, pp. 64-65. the students study the pictures have them note which are the Have students read several written accounts of the events at These may be found in Discovering American History, Unit II, What expressions and poses the Minutemen have? View film, Shot Heard Round the World, #1-31102, 32', C; or Lexington, and Concord, both British and American versions. Each of the artistic interpretations of the events at The Making of the American Revolution, Part 1, pp. 4-7. Revolution: A Lexington Family, #1-13774, 16 they change in the different pictures? LEARNING ACTIVITIES in what they emphasize? readers? Visa versa? Discussion Questions: Discussion Questions: ABOUT THE ACTUAL EVENTS. AEP, pp. 26-51. Minutemen? 77 several different versions The students will examine versions of Lexington and of Lexington and Concord. The student will make inferences about the Concord. ä 4 OF HISTORICAL EVENTS. DIFFERING VIEWPOINTS GOAL 5:

FOCUS	GBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
		 b. Why are some details brought out in one painting and clouded over or omitted in another? c. Can a work of art ever be used to get at the truth? Can the illustrations be called interpretations? d. If you want to find out the truth about an event, are interpretations of any value or are they simply misleading? e. Do you think it is possible to tell about an event without interpretating it? f. How could knowing the reasons for an interpretation help you to use it? Illustrate your answer with examples from from the articles on Lexington and Concord.
		2. Have the students review the articles read in Activity A., 2. Keeping in mind who wrote them and for whom the account was written. How might the writer and the readers of each article affect the way the story of Lexington was told?
		 a. List the details on which the British and Americans agreed. b. Look closely at the details on which the accounts disagreed. For each detail about which the accounts disagreed, select the one which you consider the most accurate. c. Using the details you found in stop "a" and the details you selected in step "b", construct your own account of what happened at Lexington.
		4. The student has now joined the ranks of a historian. Has the truth finally been achieved? Why or why not?
		5. Based upon his observations in #4, the student should attempt to determine who was wrong, in what way, and how the entire event could have been avoided?
		13

|--|

	FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
	•		Why the Americans should want to revolt. Who decides: that Americans are not subordinate to Great Britain, to declare Independence, that a system of government should be changed, who has final say among the thirteen colonies, how taxes will be paid and to whom, who will protect American shipping, who will make treaties with foreign nations, under what system of government to live? And by what authority?
23			5. Discussion Questions: a. In general, what are the changes made against Great Britain in the Declaration of Independence? b. Now do the specific grievances listed in the Declaration violate the rights of man or the role of government defined in the first two paragraphs? c. After the grievances, what further reasons did the Americans offer for declaring their independence? d. John Adams thought that Jefferson's Declaration of Independence was "too passionate." For what reasons might Adams have held this opinion? Now that you've read the Declaration can you tell whether Adam's opinion was valid? Explain. e. Why can the Declaration of Independence be considered a declaration of war? f. What did Franklin mean when he said, "If we all don't hang together, most assuredly we will all hang separately?"
• •			6. Conduct a debate, Resolved: That the Congress should declare that these United Colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent states. A good source for statements of both the negative and affirmative is From Subject to Citizen, "The Making of the American Revolution," part 2, pp. 68-69.
			7. Have several students play roles of radicals, moderates, and conservatives in a mock discussion or debate over the advisability of signing the Declaration.
		in to the second of the making distriction the second of LEARNING ACTIVITIES	8. In Discovering American History, Unit 2, "The American Revolution," pp. 124-125, have students read a 'Selection from Common Sense by Thomas Paine." Discussion Questions: a. Does Paine believe that it was America's destiny to remain in the British Empire or to stand alone? Why? b. According to Paine, why was Great Britain interested in America? c. What does Paine think of Great Britain's right to rule America? d. Does Paine suggest any new reasons for the Revolution?	1. Review with students that a hypothesis is an idea that has not been proven but that is assumed to be true for the sake of testing. 2. Now that the student has examined and analyzed the causes of the American Revolution, ask them to form a hypothesis about causes of the American Revolution. This can be done on a(n) class, committee, or individual level.

OBJECTIVE		B. The students will make a hypothesis of why the colonists desired inde pendence.
Focus

ERIC

Using a histomy text have the students find out what the strategy fighting and home fronts. At the onset of the conflict who had past experiences of soldiers, outside assistance, location of fighting, unanimity or lack of it, financial resources, manufacturing, troop turnover, naval strength or weakness, trainliave students depict this strategy upon an outline map of the Read and/or discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the Amer~ Have a class discussion in which pupils discuss the strategy Include such categories as leadership, reasons for fighting, they understand the problems related to the strategy in 18th a hetter chance of winning "on paper"? Defend vour answer of the British and of the Americans was in the Revolution. ing, fighting style, length of supply line, attitutes on the British and Americans in the Revolutionary War. American Weaknesses British Weaknesses LOAL 7: THE STUDENTS WILL IDENTIFY THOSE FACTORS WHICH CONTRIBUTED TO WINNING THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION. LEARNING ACTIVITIES 2. . Mave the students compile charts: ican Colonists and the British. American Strongths British Strengths century style war. colonies. 7.7 The students will indicate The students will compare the colonists was largely forced upon the Americans that the strategy used by by the nature of British the strengths and weaknesses of the Colonists OBJECTIVE and British. strategy. ъ. Ä COMPARISON OF THE COLONIES AND THE War strategy BRITISH.

多年了一个多年的是不是是有一个人的人,我们就是一个人的人,也不是一个人的人,也是一个人的人,也是一个人的人的人,也是一个人的人,也是一个人的人,也是一个人的人,也是一个人的人,也是一个人的人,也是一个

	LEARNING ACTIVITIES	4. Assign some students report on fighting styles, weapons, or uniforms. This might be done through library research or American Heritage Book of the Revolution.	5. Several students might make models or drawings of Revolucionary weapons such as, swords, pistols, rifles, pole arms, powder-horns, artillery projectiles, howitzers, motars, field pieces, and other cannons. Source, Revolutionary War Weapons, Colby.	6. A field trip might be arranged for several or all students to visit Donnin's Antique Arms and Gun Museum in North Miami.	7. Discussion Questions: a. What do we mean by defensive warfare? Who was usually on the defensive during the Revolution, the American colonists or the British? b. What are the disadvantages of being on the disadvantages of being on the disadvantages.	Now did weapons determine the	1. Have the students read Discovering American History , Unit 2, "The American Revolution," pp. 132-;38. Any U.S.history textbook account of the military phase of the American Revolution would also serve the purpose.	2. Have the students compile a battle chart:	Battle Location/date Victor Significance	3. Show films, Soldier of the Revolution, #1-12820, 15',C, or Valley Forge, #1-12822, 14', BW.	4. Assign students to research several of the military highlights of the Revolution. (Bunker Hill, Trenton, Saratoga, Kings Mountain, Yorktown, etc.)	18
-	OBJECTIVE						C. The students will examine an overview of the nilitary phase of the war.
· ·	FOCUS						Winning the War.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	5. Discuss the Battle of Saratoga in some detail. Perhaps a panel of students might research this topic and lead the discussion.	6. Either by means of an outline map or transparency trace the British three-pronged plan of 1777 (Burgoyne, St. Leger and Howe) to divide the colonies.	7. Show the filmstrips, Freedom's Pledge, SVE, or Summer Soldier, CTA, or American Revolution, Guidance Associates.	8. Discussion Questions:	e assigned to do in 1777?	b. What was St. Leger assigned to do in 1777? Did he attende	g G	d. What did the American colonists do to the did the American colonists do to	What does this indicate about the colonists? What would	they did at Saratoga?	e. Could the British have everted a defeat at Saratoga?	f. Was the capture of Philadelphia by General Howe a signif-	actions helped or hurt the British cames? Every	g. Why did the French come to the aid of the colonists after	have upon the American disadvantages and British advantages?	9. Repeat activities 5 and 6, substituting Yorktown for Saratoga.	10. Show film, Lafayette: Soldier of Liberty, #1-12461, 16', BW, or Williamsburg in the American Heritage, #1-12799, 20', C.	`	19
OBJECTIVE														•
Focus		· ·					•		,,				,

THE GOOD BY	UBJECTIVE LEARNING ACTIVITIES	e the e Amer nwalli cussio	a. According to Cornwallis, what can Yorktown? b. In defeat, what was Cornwallis' Americans and Franch?	c. What feelings does Washington exthe British defeat at Yorktown? d. Do Cornwallis and Washington agroutcome of the battle? Explain. e. Why did the British give in the	The end of hostilities. D. The students will examine 1. Show film, American Revolution: . the terms of the Treaty or filmstrip, Benjamin Franklin, of Paris - 1783.		3. After some research on the topic, have several a role-playing session of the peace conference delegates from the United States, England, and Spain and Holland were also participants, but t confuse the issue.)	4. Have the students locate on United States.	5. List the gains and losses of conference.	6. Discussion Questions: a. Did French gains from the tefforts in the Revolution? b. Was the treaty a just one? c. Which agreements would plea would please some Americ d. Did the United States honor
	CTIVITIES	students read Discovering American History, Unit 2, ican Revolution, pp. 138-142. These are accounts of s on Yorktown and Washington on Yorktown.	to Cornwallis,what caused the British defeat at what was Cornwallis' attitude toward the	What feelings does Washington express when he writes about the British defeat at Yorktown? Do Cornwallis and Washington agree on the reasons for the outcome of the battle? Explain.	tion: The Postwar Period, #1-05749, nklin, Guldance Associates.	eaty of Paris - 1783.	After some research on the topic, have several students conduct a role-playing session of the peace conference representing the delegates from the United States, England, and France. (Note: Spain and Holland were also participants, but that would only confuse the issue.)	students locate on a map the boundary lines of the cates.	of each nation involved in the peace	Ssion Questions: Did French gains from the treaty outweigh their military efforts in the Revolution? Explain. Was the treaty a just one? Explain. Which agreements would please most Americans? Which would displease some Americans?

OBJECTIVE LEARNING ACTIVITIES	treaty? Explain. e. Did the Americans accomplish wha	7. Discuss the following: Why did the A Why were the colonists able to defend largest empire the world had known?	21
'NG ACTIVITIES	treaty? Explain. Did the Americans accomplish what they fought for? Explain.	Discuss the following: Why did the American Revolution succeed? Why were the colonists able to defend themselves against the largest empire the world had known?

THE STUDENTS WILL DEFERMINE SOME OF THE REASONS FOR ESTABLISHING NEW GOVERNMENT.	Show the film, The Const. Have the students read all Period (1781-89). Any Uthis, however, From Subjuts an excellent account Discussion Questions: a. What were some of the following the American Were they successful	The concept to present to the students here is disorder. On page 82 of The Americans is a picture of a traffic jam representing disorder and two drawings on page 72 of the workbook. Another suggestion is to arrange the desks in disorder or haphazardly, having the students take a seat and requesting that they not move their chairs. The point to get across to the students is why we need order. The next lesson, "What Would You Do If You Were in a Place Without Order?" presents a recording from The Lord Of The Flies (the teacher's manual has the script which may be read to the students.) Here the students should suggest ways to attain order.	Introduce the term, dictatorship, and ask the students if they would like to live under a dictatorship. Conduct a role-playing session with a student running the class as a dictatorship. Ask the students, if they lived under a dictatorship would they revolt? Why?	llave the students read pp. 85-86 from The Americans. Define the words government and democracy. Discuss the difference in decision making in a dictatorship, in a democracy.	22
ION ON THE CONFEDERATION PERIOD, OBJECTIVE	A. The students will identify l. several of the problems faced by the United States 2. following the American Revolution.	e.	· ·	6.
L 8: GIVEN INFORMATION ON FOCUS	PROBLENS OF THE YOUNG DISUNITED NATION.	Note: Commencing with activity #3-#8, The Americans Chapter 4, pp. 82-89, will be the basis of instruction. A class set of this text would be ideal, however, a single copy would suffice. In addition to the text there is a workbook and a teacher's manual	,

LEARNING ACTIVITIES	the students read the speeches on page 78 of The Americans workbook. From these five excerpts the students are to identify which represents a dictatorship and which represents a democracy. Speeches: a. "If I am elected" b. "The people of this country want" c. "Your leader has increased the size of" d. "We the people of Starike, do"	8. Define the word, constitution. Have students read pp. 88-89 in The Americans. The point of this lesson is that if the students disliked disorder and dictatorship, then power must be given to a government of insure order. The guidelines which a government operates under is a constitution, forged by the people themselves.	9. Make a class list of the weaknesses found in the Articles of Confederation and discuss the effects of each weakness.	10. Have students role-play some of the situations of the Confederation Period (e.g. a farmer bringing his produce across a state line, a citizen from Virginia attempting to purchase something in New York, Shay's Rebellion, the Mount Vernon Conference, the Annapolis Convention, American representatives attempting to secure a trade agreement with England, a group of frontiersmen discussing the Indian problem in the Northwest, delegates from a particular state discussing whether to give up their Western land claims).	11. You might play a simulation game at this point. Suggestion, Disunia, Interact or 1787, Western Behavioral Sciences.
OBJECTIVE
Focus					,

12. Show the film, George Washington, #1-12479,20', BW.

	LEARNING ACTIVITIES	1. Have the students compile a chart listing all the problems of the Confederation period. List not only the problem but also whether it was solved or not.	Problem Solved yes no		 Ask students to suggest any ways the problems listed above might be solved. It is hoped the students will suggest the need for a strong central government based upon democratic principles. 	 Discuss the immediate steps leading to the Philadelphia Convention, i.e. the Mount Vernon Conference and the Annapolis Convention. 	4. Have the students write an essay: The Constitutional Convention and call for a strong central government was a natural out-growth of the Confederation Period.	. Show film, America's Foundation of Liberty, #1-05374, 11',C.	deals with the Constitutional Convention, ratification of the mment.			24
-	OBJECTIVE	B. The students will propose reasons for calling the Constitutional Convention.		·			7	$	dourse, Our Federal Government, and a study of our federal govern			The state of the s
C TERIC	FOCUS	Calling the Constitu- tional Convention.				3			Note: The Quinmester do Consititution, and		-	THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY O

MATERIALS:

1. Recommended basic textual and other materials:

and Frizzle, Donald B. Discovering American History, "Unit II, The American Revolution." New York: Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 1967. Kownslar, Allan O.

EDC Social Studies Curriculum Program, From Subject to Citizen, "Making of the American Revolution" and People", Cambridge, Massachusetts: Education Development Center, Inc., 1970.

Graff, Henry F. The Free and the Brave (simplified edition.) Chicago: Rand McMally and Company, 1967. Graff, Henry F. The Free and the Brave (regular edition.) Chicago: Rand McMally and Company, 1967.

By the Staff of the Social Studies Curriculum Center Carnegie-Mellon University. The Americans (slow learners.) New York: American Heritage Publishing Company, Incorprtated, Distributed by Holt, Rinehart, and Winston, Inc., 1970.

King, Fred M.; Harlow, James; Eibling, Harold H. History of our United States (simplified and regular editions) Laidlaw Brothers Publishers, 1968.

Schwartz, Helvin: O'Connor, John, Exploring American History (slow learners). Globe Book Company, Incorporated,1968. Caughey, John W.; Franklin, John Hope; May, Ernest R. Land of the Free. Benziger, Inc., 1971. Sandler, Martin W.; Rozwenc, Edwin C.; Martin, Edward C. The People Make a Nation. Allyn and Bacon, Inc., 1971.

Oliver, Donald W. and Newmann, Fred M. The American Revolution: Crisis of Law and Change. Middletown, Connecticut: American Education Publications (AEP), 1970.

ω_2 . Alternate student and class material:

A. Films:

#1-12813,19',C. Coronet, Dawn of the American Revolution: A Lexington Family, #1-13774, 16', Colonial Williamsburg, Williamsburg: The Story of a Patriot, #1-40087,36'C. Warner Bros., Sons of Liberty, #1-12821, 18', C, on Heydon Solomon. John Yankec: John Adams and the Boston Massacre, #1-12772,20', BW. Encyclopedia Britannica, Declaration of Independence, by the Colonies, French Explorations in the New World, #1-05315, 11', C. Colonial Williamsburg, Decision at Williamsburg, #1-12817, 20' C. Encyclopedia Britannica, American Revolution, #1-12800, 15',C. Shot Heard Round the World, "1-31102, 32',C. Lexington and Concord, #1-31091, 27',C. The Boston Tea Party , #1-31089, 30', C. French and Indian War, #1-05360, 11', C. Give Me Liberty, #1-12762, 20', C. Churchill, Soldier of the Revolution, Paul Revere's Ride, Johnson-Hunt, Walt Disney,

anders metabolistication of the contraction of the

Serials continued:

#1-12799, 201,C. Encyclopedia Britannica, Lafayette: Soldier of Liberty, #1-12461, 16' BW. Colonial Willaimsburg, Williamsburg in the American Heritage, #1-12799, 20 Constitution of the U.S., #1-10232. The Background Period, #1-05748. The Postwar Period, #1-05749. George Washington, #1-12479. TFC, Winning Our Independence, #1-40089, 34', BW. #1-12822,14',BW. Valley Forge, American Revolution: American Revolution: Encyclopedia Britannica, Encyclopedia Britannica, McGraw Hill,

Filmstrips:

Dutch, English, Franch, and Spanish Colonists, Society for Visual Education (SVE) The Development of the Thirteen Colonies, Society for Visual Education (SVE) French and Indian War, Critical Thinking Act: ities, (CTA) American Revolution, Guidance Associates. King George and His Colonies, CTA. Tea Party and King George, CTA. A Prelude to Independence, SVE. Massacre and Propaganda, CTA.

A Prelude to Independence, SVE.
Spirit of Independence, SVE.
Summer Soldiers, CTA.
Loyalists and Patriots, CTA.
Freedom's Pledge, SVE.

Benjamin Franklin: Symbol of the American Revolution, Guidance Associates.

C. Games:

1787, Western Behavioral Sciences (Events leading up to and including the Constitutional Convention.) Disunia, Interact (21st century paralleling the problem of sovereignty during 1781-89.)

Supplemental Teacher Resources:

Bartlett, Irving, et al. A New History of the United States. New York: Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., 1969. Roberts, Paul M. Review Text in United States History. New York: Amsco Publications, 1970.

. Supplemental Student Resources:

Catton, Bruce, ed. The American Heritage Book of the Revolution. New York: American Heritage Publishing Co., 1958. Colby, Carroll. Revolutionary War Weapons, New York: Coward-McCann, 1963.

Materials continued:

----American Heritage, Volume X (August 1959) Curmins, Duane and Milte, William, The American Revolution, New York: Benziger Brothers, 1968 Ferbes, Estier. Johnny 1 remain. Boston: Boughton Mifflin, 1943.

Garner, William E., Beery, Robert W., and Olson, James R. Selected Case Studies in American History, Volume 1.

Boston: Allyn and Bacon, Inc., 1969.

Gross, Richard, and Madgic, Robert F. From Colony to Confederation: 1600-1787. San Francisco: Field Educational Publications, Inc., 1971.

Nowe, John R. Jr., ed., The Role of Idealogy in the American Revolution, N.Y., Holt, Rinehart and Winston, 1970. Labaree, Benjamin W. The Road To Independence 1763-1776. New York: The Mamillan Co., 1963.

Langer, Howard J., ed. The American Revolution, Washington, D.C.: Civic Education Service, Inc., 1966. Madgic, Robert F. Rebels vs. Royalists. New York: Scholastic Book Services, Inc., 1966.

Rand McMally & Co., 1968. Main, Jackson T., ed. Rebel vs. Tory: The Crises of the Revolution, 1773-1776. Chicago: Roberts, Kenneth. Oliver Wiswell. New York (Garden City): Doubleday, 1940.

Social Science Staff of the Educational Research Council of America. The Challenge of Change. Boston: Allyn Squire, Marjorie J. British Views of the American Revolution. Boston: D.C. Heath and Co., 1965. and Bacon, Inc., 1971.